

Street improvement plans must be designed to clearly illustrate to the contractor and City inspector the complete scope of work within the public right of way.

